

Dutch Stroopwafels

The Famous Dutch Cookies

A stropwafel is a waffle made from two thin layers of baked dough with a syrup filling in the middle. Stroopwafels are popular all over the world, and were first made in the city of Gouda (The Netherlands) during the late 18th century.

Stroopwafels are meant to be eaten with coffee or tea. You put the round disc on top of your mug and let the steam soften it for a couple of minutes. The steam heats the cookie and melts the inside layer so that it's warm and gooey. If you can't wait that long, stroopwafels are also great straight from the package.
